Dirty Little Secrets

Always played the martyr, heart on your sleeve
It's written all over your face, you know what I mean

Is it any wonder? Not hard to see You've got a little secret, one you just can't keep

Hey.. dirty little secrets in your head

Dirty Little Secrets

Hey... ..just a little respite now instead

Dirty Little Secrets

Such a height to fall, when perched so high
A little bit of truth now, would be just fine
Yours is the silence, of consent
Such a fantastic story, such a terrible debt

Hey.. dirty little secrets in your head

Dirty Little Secrets

Hey... ..just a little respite now instead

Dirty Little Secrets

What I've been looking for, was remiss 30 coins of silver for the, Judas kiss
You get what you want, with that cheshire grin I swear it's a dream but, it's everything you've ever been

Hey.. dirty little secrets in your head

Dirty Little Secrets

Hey... ..just a little respite now instead

Dirty Little Secrets

(Repeat)

Who's Sorry Now

Twist the tale to suit yourself, nothing left to see Can't you see it clear my dear what'll be, will be Maybe someday
You'll know what you mean to me

Time after time... Lord knows how
It all seems to make sense ... to you somehow
So please tell me
Just who's sorry now?

Left empty handed, never so ideal

Until I see that none of this, none of this is real So finally

I grab hold of the wheel

Time after time... Lord knows how
It all seems to make sense ... to you somehow
So please tell me

Just who's sorry now?

I guess that's all for now, until another day
And I wouldn't have it any other way
It's goodbye

No matter what you say

Time after time... Lord knows how
It all seems to make sense ... to you somehow
So please tell me

Just who's sorry now?

(Repeat)

Until I See You Again

Yesterday, a call I'd not expect Yesterday, I recall the day we first met Before today, you fought for so.. so, very long Just today, I can't believe that you are gone

I don't know where to begin
Such a first class fool I've been

Until I see you again

Until I see you again

Until I see you again

There will come a time When birds no longer sing and the words just won't rhyme
Yes there will come a time
I'd swear it's a dream, but my eyes are open wide

I don't know where to begin
Such a first class fool I've been

Until I see you again

Until I see you again

Until I see you again

(Repeat 2x)

What Coulda Been

I see your smile of all you hold dear
Through borrowed eyes, all becomes clear Looking back, as you long for yesterday
The marks of time will seldom wash away

You can't see .. your ever-slow demise
Until it hits.. right between the eyes

Rise up, never wait for a knock on your door
Time moves on past all you live for
All on you, salvation from within
I will never say .. what could've been

When darkness gives way to the dawn My wayward child, you must ramble on I was blind to you somehow
But I am so done with that now

You can't see .. your ever-slow demise
Until it hits.. right between the eyes

Rise up, never wait for a knock on your door
Time moves on past all you live for
All on you, salvation from within
I will never say .. what could've been

Rise up, never wait for a knock on your door
Time moves on past all you live for
All on you, salvation from within
I will never say .. what could've been
(Repeat)

No Regret

Anytime you want to view my etíquette Yea your silver tongue and steely gaze is all I get Sold your soul for just one night to those you do adore
While I blindly follow you for just a lil' while more

Always looking around
Something shiny new for everyday
Tales they do astound
Everybody else you cast way

Cuz you can't save everybody all of the time - all the time
It's what you get, no regret for such a crime - such a crime

Every word you say is backed by violins
A never-ending theater, a master of spin
Yes, you long to be the darling of society
A very common tale, sweetie can't you see?

Something shiny new for everyday
Tales they do astound
Everybody else you cast way

Cuz you can't save everybody all of the time - all
the time
It's what you get, no regret for such a crime - such
a crime

All the wasted time with those that you call friends
Yes, a little bit of hell on heels where parties don't end
You swear you'll get your shit together, back on track
Keep on dreamin' baby cause it's never coming back

Cuz you can't save everybody all of the time - all
the time
It's what you get, no regret for such a crime - such a crime (Repeat)
No Regret for such a crime

Old Soul

(Instrumental)

Do As You Please

You ramble on about the good that you've done
I can't hear a word through your cocaine tongue You break free of the shackles of the time that binds
Straight from the corner of my wandering eye

I may not have what you want, but I got all that you need
I'll be your bad-ass mother get you down on your knees
I'll give you all that I got, so tell me do you believe?
I'll say it once more baby do as you please

The time has come to start your life anew Casting a shroud over all that was true Forever lost in your dreams, they never made my bed
Sometimes things are better left unsaid

I may not have what you want, but I got all that
you need
I'll be your bad-ass mother get you down on your
knees
I'll give you all that I got, so tell me do you
believe?
I'll say it once more baby do as you please

So good to see how you moved on with ease
Happy to be free and now rid of your disease Soon will come the day I don't remember your name
I am the fire not just another flame

I may not have what you want, but I got all that
you need
I'll be your bad-ass mother get you down on your
knees
I'll give you all that I got, so tell me do you
believe?
(Repeat)

24 Karat Lunacy

When we met you were always smiles and happy Then I began to see things slowly, then it happened so abruptly The changes were oh so clear. What happened to you my dear?
I no longer recognize, much to my surprise vampire sucking life from everyone around

Like a child on the edge of a meltdown

Time it always short, to spend it with a nutter, now that I can finally see Manufactured drama, dissin' on your mama, taking little bits of me
Never ever happy, always being tacky, why can't you just let me be
Now I'm full of bliss and I don't seem to miss,
your 24 Karat lunacy

Constant calls and showing up from nowhere If only I had known I do swear, to others I will warn to beware
Now I can't get rid of you, my stalker what I can do

To ease your anxiety, certifiably
vampire sucking life from everyone around
Like a child on the edge of a meltdown
Time it always short, to spend it with a nutter,
now that I can finally see
Manufactured drama, dissin' on your mama,
taking little bits of me
Never ever happy, always being tacky, why can't
you just let me be
Now I'm full of bliss and I don't seem to miss,
your 24 Karat lunacy
(Repeat)

Father's Ruin

If I only knew how fast the days would go Lay my head upon a pillow of your soul
On the wind of worried moon you fly
The road to Eden lies just behind your eyes

A candle in a drafty room withheld
The race is long, but it's only with yourself
So many things, I would have tried What I'd give to hold you one more time

What I'd do for you to stay
Longer just a bit today
Just a little, a little
Heart, one can't disobey

A smile that never leaves your face
Not once, a subtle fall from grace
Hope and promise fade, you cast a shining light Refuse to think this could be goodbye

Hazel Gaze II

I tell ya just what I need

*What I'd do for you to stay
Longer just a bit today
Just a little, a little
Heart, one can't disobey*

*If tomorrow never came, would you regret today
(Repeat)*

*What I'd do for you to stay
Longer just a bit today
Just a little, a little
Heart, one can't disobey
(Repeat)*
